

TEMPORARY RESIDENTS PROGRAM

Fact sheet – Finding your local school

Children from countries around the world enrol in New South Wales government schools every year. New South Wales government schools offer a world-class standard of education from the largest education provider in Australia.

All primary schools and the majority of high schools have designated local enrolment areas. This means children attend their local school based on their residential address. Schools may accept enrolments from outside their area if places are available.

To find your local New South Wales government school visit <https://education.nsw.gov.au/school-finder>.

The school finder gives your local school based on your selections. Please note, temporary residents are not eligible to enrol in selective high schools including agricultural high schools, the selective component of comprehensive high schools and Opportunity Classes (OC) in primary schools.

When you find your local school, telephone the school and make an appointment for a meeting. If your local school is at capacity and has no available place for your child, they will refer you to the next available school with capacity.
